Catelotti Selected Host For Governor's Day At ESE

WEST SPRINGFIELD—Stephen L. Catelotti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Catelotti of Silver Lake Drive, a student at Agawam High School, has been selected as a Junior Honorary Host for the Governors' Day program at the 1965 Eastern States Exposition, it was announced today by Exposition president J. Loring Brooks.

He will be a member of the party for Gov. John Dempsey of Connecticut, on the governors' tour of the Avenue of States buildings Sunday, Sept. 19, and will attend the Governors' Day Luncheon which is hosted by Governor John A. Volpe that afternoon. All six New England governors are expected to attend the luncheon and each will be escorted by a group of Junior Honorary Hosts from high schools in Western Massachusetts and Northern Connecticut.

At the entrance to the Connecticut building, Catelotti will receive a certificate of merit signed by Gov. Dempsey in recognition of his leadership and scholastic achievement at Agawam High last year.

Catelotti is a member of the

THE MAIL CARRIER

U. S. Mail, Suffield, Conn. R. F. D. No. 1
Mrs. Elizabeth Rockwell held up mail delivery somewhere along her route long enough for the photographer to make this picture on a summer day in 1901. The route was a long one, extending to Rising's Corners where the Agawam, Southwick and Suffield bounds meet. On winter days she stopped at a friend's house about midway on the route to absorb a little warmth from the kitchen stove and perhaps to have a cup of tea. The friend's care for her comfort extended further than this. On the back of the stove, she kept bricks or soapstone, which she wrapped in flannel and put into the mail wagon to replace the ones which had grown cold during the drive from the Post Office. When comfortably settled with her feet on the hot stones, Mrs. Rockwell would cluck to her horse and jog off down the road.

Mr. Pomeroy of Feeding Hills drove a similar wagon or cart when the first rural route began there in 1900. He would take the mail out to the cart and sort it into the rows of pigeon holes. Then with stamps and money handy he started on his 20 mile drive. The new Post Office still has a rack of pigeon holes from one of these old wagons.

Mrs. Rockwell succeeded her husband on this job as mail carrier and was a familiar figure on the Suffield roads for several years.

Dan Dailey Stars In "Guys and Dolls"

At Storowton Week of September 6

"Guys and Dolls," starring Hollywood's famed song and dance man, Dan Dailey, comes to Storowton Music Fair, West Springfield, Mass., September 6-11, with all the rollicking tradition of the original smash hit that set sophisticated New York audiences applauding for 1200 performances.

The nation was still singing "Some Enchanted Evening" and "Bali Ha'i" from South Pacific when the big, brash musical, Frank Loesser's "Guys and Dolls" swept onto Broadway with its complete reversal from the dramatic style of "South Pacific." The new musical was a sort of comic opera based on a short story by Damon Runyan and dealt with the racy, hard-shelled but basically soft-hearted gamblers and racketeers of the Runyan fable.

There are two love stories in the musical. The first is built around Sky Masterson (Dan Dailey), a big-time, free-lancing, free-loving plunger and Sarah Brown (Patricia Marand) a Salvation Army lass, head of the gallant but rundown Save-a-Soul Mission in the Bowery. The secondary romance concerns Nathan Detroit (Joseph Leon) a small but hot-shot operator, proprietor of "the oldest established permanent floating crap game in New York," devoted to Miss Adalaide (Dulcie Jordan), a night club singer.

Dailey, who directs as well as stars in "Guys and Dolls" at the Music Fair, has spent the greater part of his life in show business and has an imposing list of film credits. He has appeared in night clubs and has toured in such shows as "Take Me Along," "Anniversary Waltz" and "High Button Shoes." He recently starred on Broadway in the comedy murder mystery, "Catch Me If You Can."

"Guys and Dolls," which recently broke all box-office records in a revival at New York's City Center, will be presented at Storowton Music Fair Monday through Friday at 8:30, Wednesday at 2 and Saturday at 4:30 and 9.

Wally Beach's West Springfield tent theatre's seventh season will close out next week, Monday through Friday, September 13-17 with a return engagement, by public demand, of Ann Corio and her "This Was Burlesque" show. The new edition is being prepared for a return to Broadway in the fall and features new material prepared by Miss Corio, based on recollections of her career as the world's most popular stripper. There will be an extra special midnight performance Friday the 17th.

Trading Post Opens Ninth Season Sept. 8

The Trading Post at Agawam Baptist Church will re-open Wednesday, Sept. 8th, at 10 a.m. for its ninth season. It has proved to be a successful project, both for the Trading Post, and for friends of this and neighboring communities who participate.

The first day of fall season will be devoted entirely to receiving articles of clothing, household appliances and gadgets, jewelry, for resale on a fifty-fifty basis. People wishing to dispose of outgrown or discarded articles of clothing, clean and in good condition, are invited to bring them in between the hours of 10 and 4 or in the evening from 7 to 9 p.m. Ladies will be on hand to receive them, and to explain the work of the Post to any who have not used this facility before.

Regular workers at the Post this year will be Mrs. Leigh Catchepaugh, Mrs. Andrew Burgess, Mrs. John Aitchison, Mrs. Roy Cowan, Mrs. Harry Abell, Jr., Mrs. Freeman Connaughton, Mrs. John Campbell, Mrs. Leonard Manhart, Mrs. William Haver, Mrs. Harold Stanton, Mrs. Eugene Southworth, Mrs. Lila Gordon, Mrs. Donald Catchepaugh, and Mrs. Gladys Catchepaugh.

Wednesday, Sept. 15th, articles will have been listed, marked, and placed on racks for display, when customers may inspect them and purchase as they desire.

ranging from accounting to surveys of non-literary arts will be offered, adding that all will carry three semester hours credit. All courses are open to men and women interested in starting a six-year program of night-time studies leading to a bachelor's degree; a shorter program leading to an associate degree or to persons interested in studying courses of special interest to them while not seeking a specific degree.

The evening college teaching staff features members of the regular faculty at AIC augmented by an impressive list of visiting lecturers. The opening of classes on Sept. 20 will mark the beginning of the evening college's 25th year. The night-time courses originated in 1940 and their primary purpose was to provide an opportunity for day students at AIC to accelerate academic schedules—a need brought about by World War II.

In 1949 a curriculum was organized by which men or women could earn a bachelor of business administration degree by evening work alone. The first group of BBA candidates entered AIC's evening college in September of that year.

Within a short time a system of courses leading to the degree of associate in arts was offered and in 1953 the Executive Development Program, a three-year program of graduate courses geared for junior executives in business and industry was instituted. The Executive Development Program leads to a master of business administration degree.

In addition, an increasing number of courses carrying credit toward master of arts degrees in teaching are now provided by the evening college for teachers or persons who wish to become teachers.

Registrations for all courses are being taken daily at AIC from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays, Dean Ullery said, adding that interested persons may telephone the college or write asking for catalogs.

The C.I.T. Program is a New Leader training program for boys and girls in the Junior High School. It relates specifically to Camp Counseling, but it gives training for general leadership as well. It includes group experience, with other C.I.T.'s, advanced training in camp skills such as: Archery, Arts & Crafts, Athletics, Campercrafts, Nature, Swimming etc., Instruction and theory of leadership. Practical counselor experience in program leadership and a self-appraisal and improvement program.

The C.I.T.'s have built their own area where they've lashed a table, leanto and built a fireplace plus building a bridge as their C.I.T. project. They also have overnight and outdoor cooking and have visited other camps in the area. During the four week period they also have much opportunity to observe and work with children.

Friday, August 20th the Counselors in Training at Camp Mill Brook, Don Progulski, Brian Blackburn, Joe Collins, Bill Dudley, Steve Nooney, Chip Shearer and Shelley Van Heusen planned a special event "Christmas in August." A Christmas tree was decorated with ornaments which the campers made in Arts & Crafts. The area rang with Christmas Carols and a demonstration of a Mexican Christmas was shown with the campers breaking pinatas filled with candy. The C.I.T.'s as Santa's reindeer and their Junior Counselors Teddy Benoit as Rudolph pulled Santa's Sleigh. Santa gave gifts to all the Campers and Counselors. The camp roared to see their Camp Director, Bruce Wein sitting in Santa's lap. The C.I.T.'s hope to make this an annual event.

After waiting for what seemed hours, the customer buttonholed the head waiter: "Just as a matter of curiosity," he said, "did the waiter who took my order leave any family?"

With a GOOD BREAKFAST to start the day, and a GOOD LUNCH at noontime, children will be healthier and better equipped to handle their school work.

Each of the following lunches can be purchased for twenty-five cents. Extra milk can be purchased for three cents per half-pint.

These low prices are made possible through financial assistance from the State and Federal School Lunch Programs.

Besides providing children with balanced lunches, the School Lunch Program provides them, through the social aspect of eating with other children, the opportunity to learn to try, and to come to enjoy, wider varieties of food so essential to good health.

TODAY'S AGRI-FACT

An example of its popularity is the wide use of the McIntosh apples for breeding other varieties like Cortland, Early Macs, Melba, Macoun, Spartan, etc., and others. Back in 1811, John McIntosh, found a clump of apple trees in Dundela, Canada, near where he built his home. By 1830 only one of the trees was living, but it was the ancestor of the huge McIntosh orchards now dotting North America.

The Invisible Speed Limit

Speed was involved in about 35 percent of the accidents which killed 48,000 persons on American highways in 1964.

What is SPEED?

Some people say speed is dangerous. But you're going about 1,000 miles per hour right now! (That's the speed of the Earth's rotation.)

Is 35 mph a reckless speed on an expressway? Yes—recklessly slow. Is 20 mph a safe speed on a road covered with glare ice? Maybe—if you have 190 feet of clear distance ahead an time you have to stop!

Is 65 or 70 mph ever a safe speed? It's the safest—on some roads; under some conditions and with a well maintained car.

Speed is a ruler, not a rule. The REAL speed trap is failure to adjust speed to conditions, and the real speed limit is an INVISIBLE ONE.

Posted legal speed limits are meant to be sensible maximum speeds for favorable road, weather and traffic conditions.

One guide used to set speed limits is the Uniform Vehicle Code. This national recommendation suggests the "SPEED LIMIT 60" sign you see so often on highways. Such speed limits are sometimes modified by Speed Zoning to suit local traffic and road conditions.

Engineers and traffic experts know that four out of five motorists drive at or below a safe speed—adjusting sensibly to conditions. So to establish a zoned speed, the experts take down the speed control signs on a particular stretch of road. They then record the speed of passing vehicles. Whatever speed 85 percent of the drivers maintain helps determine the new zoned speed limit, and up go the new signs.

Although it is true that the faster you go the harder speed isn't the big traffic killer. Four out of five fatal traffic accidents are at speeds less than 60 mph. More than half of fatal traffic accidents in urban areas happen at speeds under 30!

But relative speed, speed in relation to driving conditions—that's another matter!

Posted speed limits usually tell you the safe speed for GOOD driving conditions. Even then, it takes 366 feet, 66 feet longer than a football field—to stop from 60 mph. In bad weather, in slow or heavy traffic, on slippery roads, or when roadside activity is heavy, driving at posted speeds not only isn't legal, it just isn't good sense.

There is an invisible speed limit for every driving condition...

IN HEAVY TRAFFIC: Stay with the crowd—even when it means going 3 or 4 mph over the posted speed limit. If you pass often, or get passed often, something's wrong. Adjust to the invisible speed limits set by the traffic.

ON SLIPPERY ROADS: Rain, snow and ice make a posted speed limit meaningless. They reduce traction and cut visibility. Invisible speed limits are your only protection.

VEHICLE NEGLECT: Your car needs preventive maintenance. Don't put it off! Otherwise, any speed can be a threat to you and your family. Check points should include Steering, Brakes, Lights, Tires, Horn Wipers.

SUDDEN CHANGES: It's hard to adjust speed when you leave an expressway. You're used to the sound and feel of high speed, and 30 or 35 mph seems slow-poke. Make a conscious effort to shake off the feel of speed. Believe the speedometer.

According to the National Safety Council, That Invisible Speed Limit is set by... YOU—are you awake and alert? YOUR CAR—is it in good shape? THE TRAFFIC—is it heavy? THE WEATHER—can you see? THE ROAD—is it slippery, hilly, winding? THE ROADSIDE—is there heavy pedestrian or parking activity?

Drive With Extra Care — Keep Your Eyes On The Road

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

Harold Clark, teacher in the Agawam High School, and resident of Feeding Hills, has journeyed three times with his family to Moosehead Lake, Maine, this summer. The last excursion proved to be the most fruitful. Harold was amazed over the action he encountered with landlock salmon . . . he was netting them during the hottest part of the day. However, the most productive hours proved to be from sunrise to 9 in the morning, and from 4 in the afternoon to dark. Harold and his family will be dining on landlocks for many moons to come.

Blue's Abundant

Tony Godek, and his brother-in-law, Ed Williams, fished the Race off of Plum Island last week-end and filled their creels.

Tony remarked, after being asked the question, if there were very many boats fishing the same area? "There were so many boats around us that it was almost impossible to count them. We drifted and fished the bottom for the Blues, and the fellows that were trolling proved to be a hazard to us. One 36-foot craft almost rammed us . . . veered away at 6 feet from us . . . dumped water from its wake into our boat." Tony caught 8 Blues and his brother-in-law, four. Both fishermen lost many fish during the day.

Ed's Whopper

The humorous part of the trip took place during a drift into the Race. Ed had a wicked strike . . . set back on the rod to set the hook. Unknowingly to Ed, an angler in a boat thirty yards away was almost pulled over the side. He in turn set his hook and Ed hung over the side. This went on for quite a few minutes 'til Tony noticed the wild antics of the fisherman in the other boat every time Ed reared back. Finally, Tony was able to point out what was happening to Ed (between belly laughs) and the fellow in the other boat was allowed to boat Ed's jig.

The 25th

Edie, my wife, Tony, my son and I attended a 25th wedding anniversary celebration at Bob and Pearl Weber's cottage on Watson Pond, Blandford, Sunday afternoon. We had hopes of trying for pickerel after meeting the other celebrants in attendance. What foolish thinking! Frank Syriac, president of the Agawam Revolver Club, Frek Witek, co-owner of Witek's Sport Shop in Westfield, and other guests were loaded with fishing stories. By the time everyone got to tell one story it was time to head for home. You know, Bob and Pearl actually looked younger when we departed. Don't suppose the ginger ale had anything to do with it? Over fifty friends and relatives attended the affair.

New Boat

A rugged new 14-foot Mirro-Craft with a new lapstrake hull design has been added to the 1966 boat line by Mirro Aluminum Company. The transom, an entirely new construction, is designed to stand up under severe abuse. The sides of the boat are enclosed to form a box which is filled foamed-in-place flotation. The foam plastic provides flotation which is sufficient to support motor, gear, passengers, and boat. O.B.C. rated capacity 25 H.P.

VWWI CARD PARTY WINNERS

The first game in a new series of Whist Parties sponsored by the Veterans of World War One was held last Wednesday evening in the Agawam National Guard Armory. Door prize winners were Gladys Cortes, Gaston Allard, Iona LaRue and Delia Coradette.

Mystery prizes were awarded to Betty Dane, Louis Franchere and Tom Bishop. Winning Ace prize for the ladies was Selina Beauchesne and Edward Burton for the men.

The following received high score prizes. Ladies: 1st Anna McLaughlin, 2nd Gladys Cortes, 3rd Greta Collins and consolation, Sue McCarthy; Men: 1st Louis Franchere, 2nd Don O'Hara, 3rd Gaston Allard and consolation, Thomas Bishop.

The next card party will be held same day . . . time and place.

LEGION AUXILIARY UNIT NEWS

by Virginia Catchepaugh

Dept. President's Acceptance

"As we approach almost a half century of organized service, I think that it might be profitable to look back to our past. It is of foremost importance that we realize the reasons for which the Auxiliary was originally instituted and to use the accomplishments of our past history as the foundation for further achievements.

"We all too often make excuses for the conditions of the world today by laying the blame on what we have labeled 'the elements of the time.' Our children, we say, have had to grow up in a time of continual crises and unrest and therefore should not be blamed for their confusion, restlessness, and general lack of initiative. Yet, there have been wars, depressions and problems for every generation. The really great figures of history are immortal for the simple reason that they rode out the violent storms of their times, too. There is no reason for the youth, or for that matter the adults, today to be without the pioneering spirit that made this country what it is today." (Department President Lucille C. Pease in the Auxiliary)

Red Scissors Coupons

The following coupons may be sent to Unit Chairman Mrs. Adah Blood for forwarding to the Department Scholarship Program: Mrs. Filbert's Margarine, Mayonnaise and Salad Dressings; Octagon Bar Laundry Soap; Grandma's Unsulphured Molasses; Prince Spaghetti Products; Borden's Silver Cow Evaporated Milk and Sweetened Condensed Milk; Kirkman Borax Soap; Super Suds New White Detergent.

Sept. Birthday

Happy Birthday to Mrs. Adele Gallano on Sept. 1st; Miss Eleanor Wright, the 4th; Mrs. Lorraine LaBun, the 15th; Mrs. Irene Goss, the 16th; Miss Margaret Ferranti, the 19th; Miss Jeanne Belcher, the 21st; and Mrs. Belle Russell, the 24th.

TOMATOES

Tomatoes are an excellent source of vitamin C., although they are a vegetable, this is probably the reason why people often associate them with fruits and the high vitamin C citrus. In contrast to many fresh fruits and vegetables, green or ripe tomatoes kept at room temperatures for five or six days will lose very little Vitamin C. Once tomatoes become overripe, however, loss of the vitamin is very rapid.

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS

LITTLE WORK SAVERS ALL 'ROUND THE HOUSE... TO KEEP YOU "FLOWER-FRESH"

A little market basket with a handle makes a fine cleaning basket to carry from room to room with brushes, clothes, cleaners, polishes, etc.

Rid rooms of stale tobacco smoke or sweeten air in closets like this: mix 2 tablespoons ammonia with a cup of water in a shallow bowl and let it stand in the room overnight.

Pick up small pieces of broken glass this way: pat them up with a wad of damp tissue paper or cotton or with wallpaper putty.

Give glazed tile walls new sparkle by wiping them with a sponge dipped in ammonia and water—2 tablespoons to the quart.

To erase fingermarks and soil spots from wallpaper, try rubbing it with soft chunks of white bread.

Organize your work. Each morning, write out a list of things you have to do that day, putting most essential jobs first. Then, cross off each completed task as you go along. Sounds simple, but surprising how it helps to organize your days, accomplish more!

Don't shake your dust mop out of the window, if you love your neighbors—tie a big paper bag around the mop head and shake. Then throw bag and dust away.

Chill candles in the refrigerator 24 hours before using them on the table. They will then burn evenly—and they won't drip!

"Y" Tiny Tot Class

The last meeting of the Tiny Tot Program at the YMCA Outdoor Center was held yesterday with a Lion Hunt, which was exciting and enjoyed by all Tiny Tots. This program was instructed by Mrs. Betty Pease, Mrs. Peg Leonardi and Mrs. Barbara Huba. Children did many interesting projects during the summer.

PEACHES

Peach Elegante

Chill cling peach halves thoroughly. Drain, and serve with custard sauce flavored with a few drops almond extract.

Peach Dream

Flavor sweetened whipped cream with a little orange juice. Then fold in cling peaches and sliced bananas.

Peach Brownies

Bake a batch of brownies, and top with drained peach slices and whipped cream.

Instant Peace Pie

Make and chill a graham cracker crust. Fill with moderately firm ice cream and top with golden sliced clings. Serve at once.

If you're forced to turn around on a narrow rural road, try to avoid having the rear wheels go off the road surface, suggests the A.L.A. The rear wheels provide the driving power and may pull you out of trouble if the front wheels get bogged down during the turn.
